

EMS

NREMT Exam Revision Schedule to incorporate International Consensus Guidelines for Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation and Emergency Cardiac Care

The National Registry of Emergency Medical Technicians (NREMT), an organization responsible for administering national examinations for EMS training levels, is launching exams that incorporate the 2010 International Consensus Guidelines for Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) and Emergency Cardiac Care (ECC) according to the following schedule:

- EMT-Paramedic/Paramedic, November 1, 2011
- First Responder/Emergency Medical Responder, January 1, 2012
- EMT-Basic/EMT, January 1, 2012
- EMT-Intermediate (1999)/AEMT, January 1, 2012
- EMT-Intermediate (1985), March 1, 2012

The Emergency Care and Safety Institute, a Jones & Bartlett Learning publishing partner and provider of world-class safety training materials, is committed to making your transition to the 2010 International Consensus Guidelines for CPR and ECC as seamless as possible.

In the coming weeks and months, we will release scores of updated training materials that incorporate the latest medical guidelines for both laypersons and health care professionals. Additionally, you can download these free 2010 CPR and ECC Guideline resources from our website to help supplement your current course materials and ensure that your students are trained with the most current information available: